Forest Accents brings a unique international flavor to your design palette with its versatile Collections of hardwood flooring.

These beautiful wood species are selectively harvested from the bamboo forests of Southern China, the western regions of Africa, the tropical areas in Northern Brazil, and other locales known for the beauty and quality of their hardwoods.

Chosen for their striking, radiant colors and handsome graining, these beautiful hardwoods will create the perfect look for your specific design statement.

- Our Engineered Wood Flooring products affords you the flexibility to glue down directly over concrete, or staple down over existing plywood subfloors. These engineered (or cross-ply constructed) floors are designed to reduce the natural expansion and contraction of wood. These products perform better in regions with significant variations in relative humidity.
- Our Solid Wood Flooring products are manufactured with the most advanced technology. These products are designed to be nailed down over plywood. Solid wood flooring should only be installed on or above grade. The interior climate control should remain consistent to reduce the natural expansion and contraction relative to moisture (humidity or other).

All of our engineered products have a “sliced-cut” top sawn veneer. This special cut provides for the same visual appearance as solid wood flooring.

The “sliced-cut” sawn veneer is then mounted to a dimensionally stable core. This core consist of a series of wood layers glued perpendicular to reduce the natural expansion and contraction of solid ENVIRONMENTAL STATEMENT: Forest Accents is committed to manufacturing natural wood flooring products that are both environmentally safe and friendly. Our cutting methods work in harmony with nature through “Selective Harvesting” of logs. This method allows for a planned approach of selecting a few larger trees in a forest, thus, allowing for the smaller trees and vegetation to mature from below. This method is a responsible approach that ensures the long term survival and growth of our forests.
